Fire Chief and Department Strong Criticism Made by O'Connor

REASONS ARE LISTED FOR ESTIMATE CUTS

Reasons given by City Commissioners John Hodgson and D. B. Menzies for rejecting certain 1950 civic expenditures are given as follows:

1. Outdoor theatre and band shell ($30,000)—not necessary at present time.
2. New swimming pools ($300,000)—"while we feel they are highly desirable and needed, we feel the city can get along better without them than it can without other items listed."
3. Market site and building ($300,000)—such expenditure for a one-day market cannot be justified. "We also think the land on which it is proposed to erect the new structure is too valuable for market purposes."
4. Royal Alexandra hospital extension ($1,000,000)—the hospital construction situation is so vague at present that commissioners feel no further addition should be made, in view of additional $87 beds which will be available when University hospital, General Hospital, and Albermarl TB hospitals finish building projects.

Auditorium ($1,500,000)—should not be built now, when millions are needed for "things that must be done or the city cannot carry on, including sewers, water and other facilities."

Commissioner's Propose Delay In Civic Spending

Edmonton will have to wait at least another year for action on a civic auditorium, new swimming pools and market building if recommendations made to city council by two commissioners are accepted tonight.

Proposal to shelve these projects, along with five other major projects, is made in a report by Commissioners John Hodgson and D. B. Menzies.

Other cuts suggested in 1950 capital estimates are new swimming pool, extension to Royal Alexandra hospital, an outdoor theatre, shelters and toilet facilities at city playgrounds, and repairs and extensions to existing swimming pools.

Two of the city's three commissioners recommended a slash of $3,800,000 in proposed 1950 capital expenditures, leaving a total of $11,628,420 to be borrowed. This would leave the city's gross debt at $34,370,140.

RESERVES DECISION
Mayor Harry D. Ainslie, third commissioner, did not sign the written recommendations which council will consider today. Asked what he said he has reserved his decision until today's meeting.

Commissioners Hodgson and Menzies say it is impossible to increase the city's debt by 75 per cent if the $11,628,420 capital outlay for 1950 were allowed to stand.

"We do not think the board of public utilities commissioners will ratify such borrowing," nor do we think we can sell the necessary debentures except possibly at very high interest rates.

RATE BOOST NEEDED
"We should like to point out that if the said sums were borrowed, interest would be paid."

Vacations Are Not All Over Yet
You may think it's a little late in the season for a vacation trip, but a surprising number of Edmontonians don't care.

At any rate, when a two-piece set of ladies' quality Carson Lange was advertised in the new Bulletin, it was owner was besieged with would-be purchasers.

Local gals flocked to 1202 101 street and asked to see the set.

The advertiser said he could have sold a dozen.

Strong Criticism Made by O'Connor

Wholesale condemnation is heaped on Edmonton's fire department, and on Fire Chief James MacGregor for shortages of men and equipment, in Mr. Justice G. R. O'Connor's report on the Northern Hardware building fire.

Mayor Harry D. Ainslie released the report at noon today with, at comment, and city council will receive it for consideration at its special meeting later today.

Fire fighting methods used by the fire department in fighting the three-day fire which broke out March 8 in the Northern Hardware building were not proper or adequate, the report says.

Preventable loss was caused by this fact and through under fire in entering fourth, fifth and sixth floors of the building.

There were deficiencies in fire fighting appliances and equipment used in fighting the fire.

There is a lack of modern equipment for the department, which has only two modern pumps and one modern aerial truck. This renders life and property in Edmonton unsafe if two large fires occur on the same time, according to the report.

Conditions found by Mr. Justice Tweedie on Oct. 13, 1938 in a previous fire in the same building are still applicable, it continues. They are:

1.—Edmonton fire department has no organized system of instruction, and in particular no power of instruction in use of gas mask.

2.—It has no regular fixed drill.

3.—No physical drill is required.

4.—There is no medical inspection.

5.—There is no proper inspection of larger buildings by brigade officers.

6.—There are no tests for promotion.

7.—There is a lack of discipline.

8.—There is a shortage of men on the fire fighting force.

9.—The fire department is not equipped with sprinkler system, the owners had asked for quotation for installation shortly after buying the building.

Sky-Riding Cowhounds Soar to Town

A hundred "riders in the sky" came winging up a cloudy drizzle and thundered into Edmonton for a round-up yesterday.

The air-cue cattlemen arrived with aviation fuel in their 10-gallon tanks.

The flying cowboys arrived from Montana in a flight of more than 40 aircraft. Although most of the air-men are ranchers, they call themselves the Flying Farmers organization.

PLACE IN AGRICULTURE
After winging over the wide-open spaces of Alberta, the sky-riders decided the aircraft is going to play a part in Alberta agriculture in the future. "Plane will be as useful in the development of farming in the northern part of the province, they say."

The day isn't far away when the aircraft is going to be as much a part of farm equipment as a tractor," predicted J. L. Lee, baronet of Canada, Montana, president of the club.

IMPORTANT AS TRUCK
"Wherever a man is 50 miles or so out of town, a plane can be just as important as a truck," he said.

Cattlemen harvest runs over 200 head of cattle on 12,000 acres in the Great Falls area. He finds his aircraft indispensable, he says.

Cattlemen use planes to spot cattle, inspect fences, fly in supplies, cowboys and sheep herders on the range, or fly out broken parts for repairs.

"For the finest sport in the world" the flying cowboys go aloft with a shotgun and bullet copiers, he said.

But the horse is still going to remain supreme on the range.

"A plane is great to get all over the range in a few minutes, but it can't much use for herding cattle," said Mr. Barrett. "It'll be a long while before they invent anything better than the horse for that."

Mercury Due To Go Higher

Below-freezing temperatures were general over Alberta last night for the first time in a week.

Two lowest readings were reported from extreme ends of the province. In the north-west, temperature in the intermediate area ranged up to 39 above, Edmonton's reading was 29 above.

High yesterday of 53 was below the average of 60 for this time of year.

Trend for today and tomorrow will be for temperatures to increase according to the Edmonton forecast. Estimated high for today is 55.

Forecast until midnight tomorrow: Clear today. Cloudy and a little warmer tomorrow. Light winds. Low tonight 35. High tomorrow 65.

U.S. Anthracite Miners Brighten Strike Scene

By J. Robert Shubert
PITTSBURGH, Oct. 3. (UP)—Anthracite miners returned to work today, ending a two week work stoppage, but the nation's labor picture remained dark with nearly 1,000,000 men idled by steel and coal pension strikes.

The 78,000 hard coal miners went back to work in the eastern Pennsylvania fields to relieve a growing coal shortage along the eastern seaboard.

They were ordered back by United Mine Workers officials who feared a prolonged strike would kill off the anthracite market.

SOFT COAL SHORTAGE
Recognition of the anthracite miners will not ease the shortage of soft coal and prospects for early settlement of the contract disputes in steel and coal are not good.

Every business and industry in the country eventually will be affected by the strikes in the two basic industries continue.

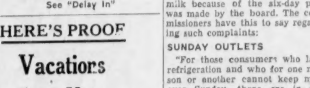

Government officials said they were virtually powerless to end the spreading impact. The strikes, occurring simultaneously for the first time in history, parked the greatest single war-time ever dealt the American economy.

$11 MILLION WAGES
Both strikes, which cost nearly $100,000 a day in wages, started over pension disputes. Government officials said the steel dispute appeared unlikely, but federal coal union chief Cyrus Cline was expected to try to mediate the steel issues again sometime this week.

The three-day-old United Steelworkers strike was curbing the steel industry an estimated $200,000 a day. The soft coal industry was losing $100,000 daily in business as a result of the two-week-old United Mine Workers' strike.

Work on the project will start as soon as plans have been completed.

Recently, the company purchased a three-quarter acre lot from the city for the plant.

FLYING COWBOY Len Barrett, president of Montana Flying Farmers and Ranchers Association, and wife, were greeted at Edmonton airport yesterday by Eric Suggan, vice-president of Edmonton Flying Club. Also on hand were Mayor Harry Ainslie, Air Commodore H. M. Carscadden, Don McLaughlin, president of local flying club, and Carl Stempfle, Farmers Union of Alberta.

Sunday Delivery Of Milk Quashed

Sunday milk delivery in Edmonton has permanently become a thing of the past. Decision of Provincial Board of Public Utilities lasted today places stamp of approval on the no-Sunday-delivery plan for past six months.

Report of the public utility commissioners, issued by Chairman G. M. Black, and Commissioner Bruce V. Masie, holds:

"There is a lack of any indication in the incidence of milk-borne disease in the city of Edmonton as a result of the elimination of seven-day deliveries."

PUBLIC HEARINGS
The commissioners held public hearings to receive evidence concerning the curtailed milk delivery trial plan on Dec. 28 and Aug. 2.

Complaints of dysentery are very few and no proof is required to establish this trouble before the trial plan became effective. This complaint can arise from many causes, commissioners declared.

Investigation of reports of soiled milk because of the at-day plan was made by the board. The commissioners have this to say regarding such complaints:

"For those consumers who lack refrigeration and who for one reason or another cannot keep milk over Sunday, there are in the board's opinion, sufficient outlets where refrigerated milk can be obtained."

City Police Probe Series of Break-ins

One Man Arrested, Several Others Under Investigation

One city man has been arrested and several youths are being investigated after three shopbreakings were reported to city police over the week-end.

Charged with shopbreaking was John Marchuk of Calder, who was found in a barn at McArthur's Bakery early Sunday.

Marchuk was arrested when the night watchman saw a man break in the barn window, police said.

Police were informed and searched the barn, taking Marchuk into custody.

If just wanted to get some beer, and it was too late to get home, he was said to have told police.

Sum of $230 was stolen from Williams' Grocery at 640-111 avenue Sunday afternoon when a thief broke into the store by climbing down a coal chute.

Charles McKay, store proprietor, said that 36 one-liter bottles, 132 dimes and 40 five-cent pieces were removed from the till in front of the store.

COFFEE SHOP ENTERED Several youths are being investigated by city police in connection with a shopbreaking Saturday at a coffee shop of Hayward Lumber Co. at 13867.

Entry into the employees' cafe was gained by smashing a glass pane in the door and releasing the lock.

Police said they believed that, several pieces of merchandise were found missing, police said.

Three Highland stores and the Elks' club at 8910 Jasper avenue were also broken into. Thieves tried to force open a well sealed in the Elks' club but failed.

ALL IN MESS Struck by the thugs, who tried to break in $3 in change and several packs of cigarettes for their efforts were: Highland Court Grocery, 9004 Jasper avenue; Highland Court Coffee Shop, 9002 Jasper avenue; and Duluth Grocery, 9008 Jasper avenue.

Police said entry in all cases was gained by forcing a door or breaking a window.

Highland grocery reported $2 in change, which had been left in the till, and a quantity of cigarettes missing.

Other shopkeepers said that so far they had discovered nothing missing.

A wall safe in the Elks' club was broken into and the contents were being hammered at, but thieves were unable to break it open.

Police said that all the stores were in a mess. "As if they had been throwing the stuff around maliciously," said one officer.

Assessment officers from seven Alberta cities are attending annual meeting of the Assessment Officers' Association which opened today at the Civic Block.

Morning session of the meeting was occupied in approving constitution of the organization.

Attending the meeting are: A. D. Morrison, Calgary assessor; chairman, G. L. Ross, Red Deer, vice-president, and John Pollock, Edmonton, secretary.

In attendance are: R. S. Gillespie, Red Deer, city controller; J. K. Ward, Lethbridge assessor; and A. Larson, assessor; G. E. Brownie, Wetaskiwin assessor; A. T. Legge, Medicine Hat city treasurer and comptroller; G. D. Robertson, Drumheller, city manager; J. A. Macdonald, and John Pollock assessor and Thomas Walter, former city assessor for Edmonton.

Delegates to the meeting were guests of the City of Edmonton at a luncheon at the Macdonald hotel later today.

Drivers Fined $50 Each Here

Two Edmonton motorists were fined $50 each, when they appeared in police court today on two separate charges of dangerous driving.

Gordon G. Johnson, 9027 148 street, was arrested Sept. 2 following an accident at the corner of 124 street and 148 street.

When questioned by police, Johnson said he had been travelling at a fast rate of speed and was unable to make the turn, smashing into a parked car owned by Wayne Sanderson, 9038-84 avenue.

Victor Quarmann, St. Elmo Hotel, pleaded guilty to the other offence. Quarmann was also arrested on Sept. 2 when the car he was driving was involved in an accident at 10 street and 82 street.

Printers' Group Seeks Centralized Authority

Centralization of authority in negotiating union contracts between employers and all union affiliates of Western Federation of Allied Printing Trades is an objective approved in principle by delegates attending the WFAPT convention here.

Although the convention, which concludes tonight, has not yet dealt with this resolution there was no doubt it would be carried by a large majority, said George Charbonneau, Regina, president of the federation.

Mr. Charbonneau explained that at present the federation had expanded to a membership of 1,500 in Manitoba, Saskatchewan and Alberta.

Quebec, Ontario and British Columbia are independent affiliates of the federation.

He said he looked hopefully toward the likelihood of these provinces lining up with the Western Federation so that negotiations eventually could be held on a national basis.

Mr. Charbonneau said success of such centralization "would be largely contingent on reaction of employers."

He added employers would be consulted before any such action was undertaken.

Under a centralized negotiating committee he said he believed "much local bickering" would be reduced, but it would not mean elimination of local representation.

Scale differential peculiar to local conditions would also be taken into consideration, he said.

Pressmen and stereotypes employed by the Calgary Herald will be asked to protest by the paper of the label known as "Canadian National Printing Trades Union," Charles Gilbert, secretary-treasurer of the WFAPT said yesterday.

Gilbert said delegates registered this in an approved resolution.

He stated the label represents a "union" which had seceded from the International Typographical Union and that for its purposes was "financed by management."

He said union pressmen and stereotypes of the Vancouver Province refused to work under the label and that management had removed it from the paper's masthead.

Re-elected president of the Western Federation of Allied Printing Trades Union was George Charbonneau of Regina. Vice-president, G. H. Grigg, Saskatoon; secretary-treasurer, Charles Gilbert, Edmonton.

Big Gold Reserve Drop Seen in U.K.

Cripps' Announcement Expected Late Tuesday

By R. H. Shackford
United Press Staff Correspondent

LONDON, Oct. 3.—(UP)—The government will announce this week another big drop in gold and dollar reserves which may bring the total in hand below 300,000,000 pounds ($840,000,000), it was learned today.

Sir Stafford Cripps, Chancellor of the Exchequer, will announce the status of reserves at the end of the quarter ending last Friday. He will speak at the Lord Mayor's annual dinner for London bankers tomorrow night, and may then tell them the bad news.

COMPLETE REVIEW
In any case, he was scheduled to give the bankers a complete review of the financial and economic situation as a result of devaluation. The gold and dollar reserves figures will be made public while the cabinet prepares to decide this week on how to cope with the Argentine devaluation of the peso, and the consequent threat of an increase in prices of Argentine meat. The reserves have been Britain's chief worry for months. Their depletion was a big factor in the decision to devalue the pound.

At the end of 1948 the reserves were 646,000,000 pounds. By the end of 1947 they had dropped to 512,000,000 pounds. By June, 1949, they were down to 406,000,000 pounds. Cripps had set 500,000,000 pounds as the minimum safe level.

MEAT PRICE SOARS
Argentina announced new import and export rates for the peso last night, which are expected to increase the cost of meat to Britain. Argentina is also asking for a 50 per cent increase in the price of meat.

The government's dilemma is the possibility of having to cut the small meat ration if Argentine supplies decrease, or to add to inflation by increasing the price of meat to avoid a cut in the ration.

It was the latest problem added to the hard-pressed government in the wake of its devaluation of the pound.

Miss Canada Hits 138 MPH

PICTON, Ont., Oct. 3.—(CP)—Miss Canada IV set a North American speed best record of 138.44 miles an hour yesterday and missed cracking the 100-mile world mark of 147.7 mph by a whisker.

Driver Harold Wilson of Ingersoll, Ont., had only to top his first second of the total time of 31.9 seconds over the two-mile run on Picton Bay to become the fastest water pilot in the world. The boat and its Wilson "thriller" was downed due to a red-hot engine.

OUT OF WATER
"Miss Canada" was so high over the water chops that the breather pipes weren't working in Canada water to keep the engine cooled," he explained later. He had no way of knowing he was so close to cracking over the world record.

The previous North American titleholder was Sir Cuthbert, owned by Jack Shafer of Detroit, which set the record, 126.6 miles an hour, over Gull Lake, Mich., in August.

Under American Powerboat Association regulations, Miss Canada is allowed one more attempt before another Tuesday to break the world record set by the late Sir Malcolm Campbell in 1939.

Investment in Canada Urged by Congressman

He added: "Canada is the largest and best customer of the United States, but Canada needs American dollars to pay for its huge American purchases."

The Commission, established in 1969 to protect American investors against unsound domestic security schemes, in recent years has placed barriers against the sale in the U.S. of certain Canadian securities, many of them gold-mining shares.

Famed Anglican Minister Dies in Vancouver at 93

VANCOUVER, Oct. 3.—(CP)—Rev. Arthur Murphy, one of the grand old men of the Church of England in Canada, died here during the week-end. At 93 he was Canada's oldest active Anglican clergyman.

An active sportsman to his 90th year, he moved here in 1946 after leading the parish of St. John's Anglican Church in Edmonton for more than 35 years.

HUNTED UNTIL 86
Only at 86 did he decide he was too old to continue his favorite sport—hunting. He sold his gun because he was afraid the temptation to go back to the fields would be too great.

At 80 he gave up golf. He was a clergyman beloved for his benevolence and tolerance. On the day before he lost consciousness his third book, "Spiritual Journey," arrived at his bedside from the publishers. Most of it was written in his 82nd and 83rd years.

Rev. Murphy was the author of two other religious volumes, "The Way of Life" and "An Old Testament Story."

DIAMOND ANNIVERSARY
In 1947 he celebrated the diamond anniversary of his ordination after graduation from Wycliffe College, University of Toronto. He was owner of timber rights in Manitoba, a timber cruiser, mine owner in Alberta and an investor in real estate.

His wife, who predeceased him some years ago, was Emily Murphy, first woman magistrate in the British Empire and an author who wrote under the widely-known pen name of Jasey Canuck.

Six Church of England clergymen will act as pallbearers at the funeral Tuesday at 4 p.m. (PST), at St. John's Anglican Church. Rev. N. D. Larmouth will officiate and will be assisted by his Francis Heathcote, Anglican Bishop of New Westminster, Rev. C. G. Owen and Dean Cecil Swanson.

BURIAL HERE
The body will lie in state at St. John's from 2 to 4 p.m. Tuesday.

FAMED FLITCH TRIAL

Bacon Supply Revives U.K. Marriage Custom

DUNMOW, Essex, Eng., Oct. 3.—(Reuters)—A side of New Zealand bacon was handed out today to each of four couples here who were kneeling on two sharp-pointed stones that they "had not quarrelled nor repented of their marriage within a year and a day after its celebration."

The couples were taking part in the famous "Flitch Trial" revived after a lapse of 12 years following the gift of the bacon by the people of New Zealand.

Room-raising has ruled out holding the trial in recent years. By ancient custom only those couples who can prove their marital harmony before a jury of 12 spinners and six bachelors can qualify for a gift of bacon.

The handshake Walt Rayson will never forget

RAYSON it was chance that led Walt Rayson, while driving through a college town, to stop at a certain restaurant.

As he gave his order, he glanced at the waiter. The face looked familiar. Suddenly Walt remembered—the young man was the son of an old friend.

After finishing his meal, Walt introduced himself. "You wouldn't remember me, Bill," he said, "but I know your father. It's quite a surprise finding you here."

"That's easily explained, sir," said Bill. "I'm working my way through college. My father died last year he left me little life insurance to support myself and my mother."

Too, that, plus what I earn here, has made it possible for me to stay at university."

"That makes me feel mighty good," said Walt. "Because I'm the man who sold your father that life insurance."

"How?" said Bill, "you'll never know what that money has meant to Mom and me. And I guess you're the one I ought to thank for it. So... so thank?" he said, shaking Walt's hand warmly.

"Oh, it was just part of a day's job," said Walt, rising. "Well, goodbye and good luck!"

Later, as he drove into the night, Walt's face of satisfaction deepened when he recalled how hard it had been to persuade Bill's father to increase and properly plan his life insurance to cover the emergency that, years later, Bill and his mother had to face.

"Walt," said Walt to himself, "there must be thousands of cases like this where life insurance representatives have helped to save the day!"

Yaschi Gives Yanks Flag Burns Meet NY in Series

CRASHING ACROSS for Edmonton's touchdown is quarterback Bill Stukus (ball under arm), while mass of Calgary tacklers are shifted out of their uniforms. Brilliant deception highlighted this play as Stukus barged over from one yard out.

9,500 WITNESS CALGARY WIN

Stampeders Reeling at Finish But Esks Lack Knockout Punch

Close counts in the first quarter, not in the football. That's why Edmonton Eskimos failed to profit in the Western Conference football standing Saturday night as Calgary Stampeders beat them 12-8 at Clarke Stadium.

But they couldn't have come closer. Not without winning, that is.

For Eskimos had the Grey Cup champions reeling at the finish. And it was the final gun which saved Stampeders from what would have been their first conference loss in 21 games.

Eskimos Play Inspired Ball

It started casually enough in the first quarter when they were some reason to believe that a debacle approaching the proportions of that 4-13 massacre in Calgary last week appeared in the making.

Stampeders scored a touchdown in that first period, powerful Paul Rose finally carrying the ball over after Calgary had capitalized on a tragic Edmonton fumble.

Vern Graham, leading scorer in the first quarter and one of the best kickers this year, booted the conversion.

That made it 6-0 in the fourth minute of the quarter. And that was the score at halftime.

An inspired Edmonton club bounced back in an unexpected touchdown, courtesy of quarterback Bill Stukus in the third quarter, and roared ahead 16-6 on Pat West's field goal in the fourth.

When West split the uprights to give Eskimos the lead at Clarke Stadium, echoes and re-echoed with cheers like it's never heard before.

Fan's Get Money's Worth

After a scoreless second quarter Eskimos began to give the home town fans their money's worth.

Ken Siman, playing a bang-up game in his first appearance in an Eskimo uniform, intercepted a Spauld-Woodley Stampeders pass to set up the Edmonton major on the Calgary 25.

A two-man end run, with West and Hobbs carrying the mail, carried Esks to the Stampeders six.

The next play West barged to the one yard line. He was actually tackled but a quick Eskimo forward, Cliff Rosebrough, disconnected the extra yard.

Stukus slipped across for the TD on the most deceptive play you'll see in years. Almost everyone on the premises was duped by the effort, including three Stamps who tackled West.

Esks kept coming in the final quarter. They moved the ball to the Calgary 25, thanks to Stukus' nailing Drury Goulet once and Reg Clarkson twice for long territorial gains.

West kicked a field goal that gave Edmonton an 8-6 lead. They brought down the house with that score.

Saints Wind Up Hockey School

WINNIPEG, Oct. 3 (CP)—St. Paul Saints, United States Hockey League, wrapped up their week-long hockey school here during the weekend.

The coach, Clint Smith, said the signing of six players for new York Rangers and the Boston Bruins, both of Bellevue, Alta. Julius wrecked at Saskatoon; and defenseman Ray Hamilton of Saskatoon.

Fenenboch Out With Cold

CHUCK Fenenboch, substitute goalie, was out of the Calgary game Saturday with a cold. He had no temperature, according to the club doctor, but claimed the water was bothering him throughout most of last week.

It is understood that he will make the road trip to Regina and Winnipeg this weekend.

Grid Cakes

By John McLean

Putting one little word into another, whatever became of that grand old habit of catching footballs?

It wasn't THAT cold Saturday night! And of all the butterfinger bangles, Harry Hobbs' miff of Spauld's kick in the second quarter was the hardest to swallow.

Better he should have used a bucket.

Edmonton's only mistake was getting ahead of Calgary in the fourth quarter. The Esks looked good against the Stampeders until Pat West booted that field goal.

The Stamps went through our boys like a Fall wind whistling through the trees, in three plays they were back where they belong—on top.

Two through the air and one along the ground and Calgary had command of a situation they had under control most of the night.

Grid Standings

Atkinson, who looked good against the Stamp, wasn't looking good on that one. There were some who wondered if he were looking at all.

Those little game in the white skirts and blue blazers were watching.

Leaving their arms and kicking their shapely legs for all they were worth, they were cheering and cheering as he came.

He was as fat as a Edmonson.

The leaders belong at high school games. The sweatbathing, hoot-hooping yaps and the shouting and shouting. It couldn't be less about a "Two, four, six, eight, who do we appreciate."

* * *

A batch of girls, smothered in green tights, to be taken for his ball-bearing display.

The receivers weren't shaking. They were all in their own cap and blouse William for that.

If crowd reaction tells the story, Saturday's grid game was the best yet. Even big

Yaschi Gives Yanks Flag Burns Meet NY in Series

NEW YORK, Oct. 3.—The man who critics said couldn't do it will direct his first team into the World Series Wednesday starting at Yankee Stadium.

Casey Stengel's New York Yankees won the big game yesterday at the House that Ruth built, stopping Boston Red Sox 5-3 behind right-hander Vic Raschi.

Disappointing as it was to Boston the result marked sensational comeback for the Yanks. About a week ago, they seemed out of it.

TOOK TWO STRAIGHT

Yanks had to beat Boston twice to regain the lead, just when Boston crushed them in a three-game series a week previously. Inspired by the return of their retooler, Joe DiMaggio, from his bout with pneumonia, the Yanks set the stage for their triumph by coming from behind for a 5-4 victory Sunday.

This was the second successive year that the Red Sox lost two straight games to a sudden-death game for the World Series ticket. Last year Cleveland beat Boston in a one-game playoff and went on to win the series over the Braves.

The Yankees who considered themselves a "team of destiny" because they shook off 71 injuries during the season and still succeeded, finally tumbled Joe McCarthy's favored Red Sox sluggers to touch off a wild celebration by the 86,000 fans who jammed Yankee Stadium.

Casey Stengel's battered crew, held together by adhesive tape for most of the season, thus gave New York its 16th American League flag.

Vic Raschi, pitching the game of his 39-year-old life, weakened suddenly in the ninth with a 5-0 lead, but the husky right-hander gathered himself after three runs were in to put out the blaze all by himself.

RIZZUTO TRIPLES

One run, acquired on Phil Rizzuto's flourishing triple and Tommy Henrich's infield out in the first inning, had looked plenty big enough for a piece of the World Series all afternoon.

Suddenly it didn't mean a thing. After McCarthy lifted Elmer Klinker, his 23-game winner, for a pinch hitter in the eighth, the Yanks batted Mel Parnell as "Tex" Hughes for four runs on Henrich's 24th homer and a three-run double by Jerry Coleman. As it turned out, they needed most of them.

Coasting into the ninth behind a 5-0 bulge, Raschi appeared shaky. But the Sox weren't finished.

A walk to Ted Williams was a "bust" in this all-important finale, a wild pitch and Vern Stephens' single set the stage for Bobby Doerr's triple that broke Raschi's grip of goose down.

KELL BAT KING

Doerr's blow sailed over Joe DiMaggio's head in deep centerfield and the Yankee Clipper came in at the game, apparently weak from his recent illness.

Al Zarilla, injured trying for a tumbling catch on Coleman's triple in the eighth, fielded for the second out. Billy Goodman's single easily scored Doerr with the third run but Birdie Tebbets followed out to end the game.

Not only did the Red Sox lose out but Williams was beaten for the batting crown when he hit a home run in two official times at bat against the Yanks. His final average was .2473. Third-baseman George Kell of Detroit Tigers hit his two-run homer against Cleveland to win the crown with .3429.

When the multibillion dollar loss in the main Yankee quarters, with a few million in sales for each player.

If the Yankees had lost all they could expect for a bonus this year would be about the same—maybe more, because the more they lose the more the Series. Even if they lose, each man gets about $400,000. If they win it could be $600,000.

Everyone gave credit to everyone else.

RASCHI WON 21ST GAME

It was a "no-brainer" said Phil Hinz, the sparkling little shortstop whose triple in the first started things off. "All we had to do was hit the ball and get guys out, but he had to keep throwing it in there, throwing it in there."

Vic Raschi, the big pitcher whose hand in front is beginning to thin out and who has 21 wins against 10 losses and a 2.00 pitch was his fast ball.

"I only threw five curves all day—it was all fast balls," he said.

Yankee catcher and catcher from his home town, his ball-club and slightly unheaven, said in a low voice:

"You'll see him in the Series. Try to keep him away."

"I rubbed his hands over his forehead."

"Boston, they wanted to win so hard," he said. "My kid brother, Don. He wanted that job so bad."

STENGEL DID GOOD JOB

He brushed his hand over the massive World Series ring he always wears.

"I took myself out of the game in the ninth inning," he said quietly, because I should have caught some of those balls. But my arms were beginning to hurt."

He referred to Vern Stephens' single and Bobby Doerr's triple, which sent Joe McCarthy of the Red Sox came in to congratulate the Yankees.

"You did a great job in handling," the Yankees," he told Stengel.

"I wish you good luck in the Series."

EDMONTON BULLETIN, Monday, Oct. 3, 1949

FACIAL EXPRESSION doesn't portray real feelings of Casey Stengel, manager of new American League baseball champs. He's happy today after leading injury-ridden Yanks into World Series against Brooklyn Dodgers. New Yorkers stopped Boston Red Sox yesterday 5-3 for AL pennant.

DOM MISSES OUT

Casey Stengel Gets Big Thrill

By TED SMITH

NEW YORK, Oct. 3.—(AP)—Casey Stengel, pale and tense, made a bee-line from the dugout after his New York Yankees won the American League championship yesterday and jumped up on a table in the dressing room, waving his hat in awkward little sweeps.

"I want to say this to all these ball players," he rasped. "This is the greatest thrill you have given me in my life."

The hullabaloo broke loose in the plush Yankee quarters, with soft brown carpets and neat stalls for each player. If the Yankees had lost all they could expect for a bonus this year would be about $1,000 second-place money. Now they are in the World Series. Even if they lose, each man gets about $4,000.

If they win it could be $50,000.

Everyday gave credit to everyone else.

"That Raschi, he got out," said Phil Rizzuto, the sparkling little shortstop whose triple in the first started this off. "All we had to do was hit the ball and get guys out, but he had to keep throwing it in there, throwing it in there."

Vic Raschi, the big pitcher whose hair in front is beginning to thin out and who now has 21 wins against 10 losses, said his best pitch was his fast ball.

"I only threw five curves all day—it was all fast balls," he said.

Joe DiMaggio, white and drawn from his bout with a virus infection and slightly unsteady, said in a low voice:

"Yeah, I'll be ready Wednesday for the Series. Try to keep me awake."

He rubbed his hand over his forehead.

"I'd be ready to win to go hard," he said. "My kid brother, Dom. He wanted that ring so bad."

DONALD DID GOOD JOB

He braced his hand over the massive World Series ring he always wears.

"I took myself out of the game in the ninth inning," he said quietly, "because I should have caught both of those balls. But my shins were beginning to hurt."

He referred to Vern Stephens' single and Bobby Doerr's triple.

Manager Joe McCarthy of the Red Sox came in to congratulate the Yankees.

"You did a great job in handling the Yankees," he told Stengel. "I wish you good luck in the series."

PHILADELPHIA, Oct. 3—

It was just like a Dodger finish.

Burt Shotton's battling Brooklyn nearly blew them selves out of the World Series yesterday at Shibe Park. They watched while the Phillies overcame a 5-0 lead.

But when it was all over, the Dodgers were National League champs, taking a thrilling 10-inning 7-5 win.

The Brooklyn triumph broke the hearts of St. Louis Cardinals. The Cards had finished their game against Chicago Cubs earlier. They had beaten the Cubs 12-5 and a Dodger defeat would have tied them for first place, meaning a playoff. The Dodgers and the Phils were tied 7-7 after the regulation nine innings. Then came the crushing news of Brooklyn's rally.

CARS MUFFED CHANCE

The Dodgers, 2½ games behind St. Louis 12 days ago, lost behind the last-place Chicago Cubs, 6-4. But St. Louis muffed their chance to draw even when the last-place Chicago Cubs muffed their chance to win.

When Richie Ashburn, the last Phil batter, drove a liner into the clutching glove of Luis Olmo who fielded to end the tense contest, the entire Dodger bench spilled onto the field with a cheer and carried their great young relief pitcher, Jack Banks, to the dressing room in triumph.

For four innings Banks had defused the dangerous Phil sluggers while the Brooks slammers covered the money runs off their old nemesis, Ken Heintzelman, in the pulsing extra chapter.

The game had started out as a promising duel between Newcombe, the Dodgers' big negro right-hander with the slingshot arm, and Russ Meyer, the Phil's 17-game winner. But neither of them lasted long.

The Dodgers' 10th inning rally started when Pee Wee Reese loped in from the bench. Banks moved him to second with a sacrifice and big Duke Snider slammed a hot line drive into Heintzelman's legs to score the Dodger shortstop with the winning run. Luis Olmo laced one past Willie Jones into left field to drive Senter across with an extra one.

CLEVELAND TAKES THIRD

In Sunday's game, the National League champs, Boston Braves finished fourth with a 2-1 victory over New York that dropped the Giants into fifth. Pittsburgh held sixth place by splitting with Cincinnati 4-2 and losing 6-5.

Cleveland Indians held third place in the American League with an 8-4 victory over the fourth-place Detroit Tigers. Philadelphia Phillies finished fifth, despite a 3-0 win in the last place game against the Nationals. The seventh-place St. Louis Browns held the sixth-place Chicago White Sox 5-2.

Stukus Gets Anniversary Gift Anyhow

Annus Stukus hoped to celebrate his 21st wedding anniversary Saturday with a victory over Calgary Stampeders.

But he had to settle for something a little less.

After the game trainer Bert Tosti presented Big Stukus with a fine set of silverware on behalf of the Eskimos, expressing the hope that "you'll be here to celebrate your 21st wedding anniversary."

Stukus didn't reply. He was kinda choked up.

And, besides, he had a cinder in his eye.

Proud Indians Suffer In Doctors' Pay Fight

ROCKY MOUNTAIN HOUSE, Oct. 3.—(BUP)—Medical treatment for a non-treaty, rebel tribe of 250 Indians in the Rocky Mountain House district of Alberta posed a problem today.

Two local doctors, A. C. Greenaway and V. Latz, stood firm on their stand that they could treat only emergency cases among the Chipewyan band because of "unsatisfactory payment." They said they took the action when 10 months of negotiation with federal authorities for better remuneration brought no results.

They added that they had been offered $1200 as blanket payment for the year and accepted. The offer, they said, was from the federal government.

Members of the Chipewyan tribe have posed a problem to federal officials for over 40 years since they first refused to sign for treaty rights like most Indians. There are, however, no real signs of treaty Indians and become a nomadic tribe during part-time work as hunters and miners for their livelihood.

Canada Exports Show Sharp Gain

Sales Of Domestic Goods Up 10% Over August, 1948

OTTAWA, Oct. 3.—(BUP)—Canada's domestic exports in August were 12 per cent above last year's August total, the Bureau of Statistics reported.

The total for the month of August stood at $231,700,000. The August total was also higher than that of July, and added to make the aggregate total for the first eight months of the year greater than for the same period of 1947.

BIG WHEAT TOTAL

Large shipments of wheat, in comparison with last year, were again a feature of exports in August, although the value of this commodity in August was less than in several months earlier this year.

Other changes in the month, in comparison to August last year, were substantial increases in the value of shipments to the United Kingdom and Latin America and a slight rise in exports to the United States.

Exports to continental Europe were close to the value of a year ago. Exports to the United States, Canada's best customer, were up this August over the same month last year, while exports to the United Kingdom, the second largest customer, were up more sharply by over $10,000,000.
